

The eTwinning project “ITALIA IN VIAGGIO – 20 Regions, 20 Stories” is a cross-curricular project that turns learning geography into a collaborative journey to discover Italy. Running from January to May 2027, the project fits naturally into the school curriculum. It involves students of different ages — from primary to upper secondary school — from Italian schools and a partner school in Croatia.

The main idea is to make students active learners: not just listeners, but explorers, researchers, and storytellers of their own regions. Each participating school will focus on one or more Italian regions to present their geography, history, culture, and natural environment, with a special focus on local traditions and food culture.

What makes this project truly special is its strong spirit of collaboration. Students will not work alone; instead, they will work together in mixed international groups to compare their realities and create the final products together: an interactive digital map of Italy and the collaborative e-book "20 Regions, 20 Stories".

By combining subjects like Geography, History, Italian, Art, and Citizenship Education, the project aims to build both subject knowledge (using maps and digital tools, writing informative and creative texts) and key soft skills, such as teamwork, critical thinking, and communication. Finally, the project promotes important civic values like protecting cultural and natural heritage, sustainability, digital citizenship, and respect for diversity.
